One possible version:

Today it rained again. Upset as usual, Hannah took up her umbrella and rushed into the rain. She hurried to school, only to find an empty classroom. She was worried and angry. She was about to leave when she heard a loud "Surprise!" Her students jumped out from every corner of the classroom, telling her that they were planning this for her to bring some joy into her life. Hannah's face lit up. She walked out of the classroom with her students and they enjoyed a wonderful moment in the rain. She thought, "Rainy days will never trouble me any more."

It's natural for us to feel bad sometimes. But a little creative surprise can cheer us up.
